Male and Female Hormone and Fertility Disorders and their Treatments

Located at the base of the brain, the pituitary is commonly referred to as the master gland because of the role it plays in controlling the function of all aspects of the body's vital endocrine glands.

These glands produce our hormones, complex secretions which define the differences between men and women; control our fertility, our emotions, our sex drive, and virtually make life worth living.

You are invited to a public education seminar, which will address the function of the pituitary gland, with specific reference to male and female hormone and fertility treatments.

Patients, families, carers and health professionals are all welcome to attend.
